

2 DAY COUNTER 'TERRORISM & CURRENT 'THREATS MASTER CLASS

DETECT. PREVENT. RESPOND.

11-12 OCTOBER 2012 • PORTSIDE CENTRE, SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA

“Are we ready for the next wave of terror? Are we just fighting the war of the past or preparing for future threats as well? The main point that should be emphasized is the need to focus on near-future threats, rather than past-traditional tactics.”

Terrorist attacks by means of explosive devices are not the exclusive experience of just a single country. Today there are many terrorist organizations which operate on an international level and can be distinguished by their opinions, motives, and geographical locations

The following are highlighted attacks that have occurred around the world:

- > USA-WTC 9/11: fueled jets crashed and caused a series of explosions
- > Bali: a suicide attack with a booby-trapped car
- > Iraq: various types of bombs
- > Morocco: explosive devices in truck
- > Africa: US embassy buildings, suicide bombers
- > Spain: booby-trapped cars and explosive devices
- > Russia: booby-trapped cars and explosive devices
- > Sri Lanka: suicide bombers, booby-trapped cars, and explosive devices
- > India: suicide bombers, booby-trapped cars, and timed explosions
- > London: suicide bombers on a bus and inside a train station
- > Middle East: all types

COURSE OUTLINE

This is a two-day seminar for security officers, security functionaries, security-system managers, and logistic managers. Its purpose is to contribute to the understanding of the adversary's motives and enhance the importance of confrontation methods which consist of three primary elements:

- > Deter
- > Locate
- > Respond

COVERED TOPICS

- > Opening remarks, objectives of the seminar, coordination of expectations, training security/security-system managers as a first-rate auxiliary force operating prior to the arrival of emergency forces in all fields
- > This perception will enable the seminar participants to return to their workplaces with a sense of professionalism and with energies they will use to upgrade current security levels.
- > This perception will enable the seminar participants to return to their workplaces with a sense of professionalism and with energies they will use to upgrade current security levels.
- > Preliminary examination of the terrorist attack in India in which security forces arrived late and provided inappropriate responses. This constitutes an example of how security forces should not operate, and the examination will cover their preliminary mistakes.
- > What drives global terrorism?-terrorist organizations that operate in the region
- > Bomb security: explosive devices
- > Booby traps: the ultimate fear of the security personnel when combing the premises
- > Intelligence and information gathering: the terrorists' preparations vs. ours-how can we be ready?
- > The defense concept and the effect of initial responses
- > Training for security-system managers that will serve (as a lesson from the Mumbai attack) as an auxiliary force and assist the military, police, Special Forces, and rescue units in several fields:
- > Deployment prior to the terrorist attack, during the attack, and (very important) following the attack. Maintenance of a high-alert operational security system. Simulations for different scenarios and implementation of company regulations as operational fundamentals and as the basis for "a professional common language".

THE SUICIDE BOMBER

- > What goes through his head: the psychology that drives him
- > Recruitment methods: recruitment groups-a personal drive or social pressure?
- > Signs that help identify a suicide bomber: how to respond
- > The mini-max security strategy: a managerial tool
- > Security-related technology: the effective defense mechanism
- > The incident scene: post-attack procedures
- > A real event: analysis of actual responses

WHAT CAN WE DO? HOW CAN TO DEFEND OURSELVES IN ORDER TO CONTINUE OUR DAILY LIVES

In our course we will emphasis on counter terrorism solutions.

Working and professional methods will be presented in our course and we will share the knowledge we gained from the Israeli daily experience of fighting terrorism. This has helped to lead us through a drastic decline in the amount and intensity of the terrorist attacks. And, as result, further us in our resistance and deterrence against the various terrorist groups.

BENEFITS

Familiarity with security-related issues in an age of terrorism such as ours can serve as a first-class tool for security managers. Knowing about the adversary's capabilities, methods, and tools in advance can help us, as managers, to establish an effective security system that will eventually create a terrorism-free atmosphere in our workplace. Share firsthand knowledge and experience with field related Israeli expert. And giving the participants Unique perspective- "looking trough the adversary eyes".

A MUST ATTEND FOR

The purpose of the seminar is to share the substantial experience Israel has gained due to its constant confrontation with terrorism. The diversified topics of the seminar are intended for:

The State Sector: Policemen, military personals. security supervisor and managers in state-run facilities governmental offices, counter terrorism units ,Public-Transportation, Courts, Schools, State functionaries' body guards, etc.).

The Private Sector: Security companies' personnel, security managers, risk and emergency manager's, representatives of security-related academies, Hotel-security managers, Hospitals, Shopping Centers, Regional corporations and companies , VIP Body Guards, etc.
